

ZANE GREY NOVEL
BROADWAY FEATURE.
The first of the new sequel of "Riders of the Purple Sage." "The Rainbow Trail" will be seen at the Broadway theater today for the last time on the same program with "Patty" Arbuckle in "The Village Scoundrel" and other features which make the bill a very unusual holiday attractiveness.

The story of "The Rainbow Trail" is a continuation of "The Riders of the Purple Sage." It takes up the threads of the thrashing of the first great picture left off-at the juncture where William Farnum as Lassiter and a woman companion are tumbled into the mountains and encountered by the Indians at the cave entrance. "The Rainbow Trail" opens with Lassiter and his companion leaving the cave and the live people.

"The Village Scoundrel" Patty Arbuckle creates a riot of fun. The inevitable comedian has done nothing better. The program for today is the balance of the week center for

COUNCIL EXPELS SHIP LABORERS

A protracted dispute over the per capita tax has ended in the expulsion of the local Shipyard Laborers' Union from the Central Labor Council. It was announced today in labor circles. The trouble between the two organizations is of long standing and in the past is said to have been debated acrimoniously at the sessions of the Labor Council.

About a year ago the Shipyard Laborers' Union withdrew its delegates from the Labor Council because, it is said, of dissatisfaction at certain officials. Last October, however, the union applied for reinstatement and was restored to membership with a representation of ten delegates. The smallness of its representation in comparison with the membership of the union is, it is said, the real basis of the present trouble.

The union has contended that it was entitled to one delegate in the Central Labor Council for every 100 members on

SAN DIEGO-S. F. AIR MAIL IN 8 HOURS POSSIBLE

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 30.—With the high-powered airplanes now in service at North Island non-stop flights from there to San Francisco in less than seven hours is possible. Lieutenant S. H. Sharpe, commander of the squadron of pathfinders that returned yesterday from the northern city, said today. A regular mail service on an 8-hour schedule, including stops at Los Angeles, Berkeley and Fresno, can be maintained, in his opinion.

Its roster, which would have given it 25 delegates instead of the 10 recognized by the central body. The Council has refused to recognize the validity of this claim. In retaliation the union asserted that it was entitled to but 10 delegates to the council it was also entitled to pay a per capita tax based on that representation instead of upon its total membership. Having steadily refused to pay the tax of seven cents per man per month on any other basis, the Council, by a vote of 49 to 27, dropped the Shipyard laborers from its roster.

SEARCH ON FOR MISSING FLYER

An effort is being made by the Berkeley unit of the State Council of Defense and by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McElroy, who live at the Berkeley Y. M. C. A., to obtain some information from the War Department concerning the missing flyer. William McElroy, who is reported by a fellow officer to be missing in action in France, Mr. and Mrs. McElroy, who have not received any news from the War Department concerning their son, are very much worried.

Lieutenant McElroy is an alpha pilot and aviator, who took part in the big battles in France a few weeks before the armistice was signed. He was attached to the Ninety-ninth aerodrome.

Acting as a pilot with the observer, First Lieutenant Howard J. Kline of Kentucky, the young man is reported to have gone out on a difficult mission the first of October and did not return. A direct hit by an anti-aircraft gun was reported to have brought down a plane of the same type used by McElroy that afternoon. It is eight kilometers back of the German lines.

Lieutenant McElroy is a brother of Guy W. McElroy, who is with the Standard Oil Company at San Rafael, and who was a Carnegie Medal and $1000 for rescuing a young woman from drowning in San Francisco bay. Other brothers are: O. D. McElroy, with the Telephone Company at Visalia; Chester E. McElroy, manager for the Telephone Company at Ukiah; and Joseph McElroy, a student at San Jose.

Lieutenant McElroy was a graduate from the school of aeronautics at the University of California. He was a member of the Theta Chi fraternity and of the university swimming club. He finished the course of flying at San Diego, sailed January 1, 1918, and taught flying for a time in France. He was 25 years old.

Offer $1000 for Tracing Stain Man

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Whoever can trace the movements of the late John S. Ryan, wealthy real estate broker, between Third and Mission streets at 3 o'clock the afternoon of Sunday, December 22, and pier 42 at 1:30 o'clock that night will receive a reward of $1000. For Ryan was murdered and robbed and his body thrown into the bay.

The reward is offered by Thomas S. and Michael J. Ryan, of 604 Nineteenth street, sons of the slain man.

PEERLESS BREAKS HIGH GEAR RECORD

By JIM HOUHLIEN.

How powerful high gear motors of today are and how great a flexibility range they have was shown yesterday by a Peerless Eight touring car in an officially observed high gear climb over California street hills in San Francisco.

It wasn't so many years ago that great auto would have been given that great, irrefragable, and slow, any car, irrespective of size, which would make the ascent on this particular steep street in intermediate gear.

As the story was given to the writer yesterday, George Peak, general manager of the Pioneer Motor Company, wanted to convince some skeptical friends in the automobile business that his car "had just a little on nearly any other car built," and as it is to immediately make good his assertion he devised a series of stunts to prove his claims. They started the performance with the high gear run up the steep street, leaving from Kearney and finishing at Powell in quicker time than did the sole other car which pointed this hill once before on high.

Frank Loman, a San Francisco newspaper man, was the observer, and Horace Hill of the Pioneer Motor Co., the driver of the stunt producer. The Peerless was going 25 miles an hour when Powell street was reached.

Having victoriously completed the first demonstration, Hill continued out to Elgin Boulevard, with a seven-passenger load in his car, and made off on a hill on this thoroughfare at a 75-mile an hour clip. Some little burst of speed for even a touring model. Continuing on down the peninsula, Peak concluded the Peerless demonstration with an economy performance which showed a gasoline average of fourteen miles to the gallon over a city of 13 miles, a real good mark for a car carrying capacity load.

Peak was easily the proudest man in motorland following the demonstration. "The test over the California street hill and both the speed and economy marks set afterward merely go to substantiate what I have said about the car and was always ready to back up," he stated. "There were many who doubted the power and flexibility of our eight-cylinder motor, but now there can be no question as to what it can do. The three tests were sufficiently varied and certainly tried out all the vital parts of the engine."

"The Peerless Eight is certainly all that the name implies," remarked Hill, after his successful run over the California street hill. "The car quickly and easily responded to my every call and not for a moment on the stiff climb up the steep grade was I in doubt as to the success of the test. The motor just kept humming on perfectly and never seemed to strain at any point."

WILLIAM FARNUM

$780,000 Salary Indicates
Actor's Tremendous Popularity With the Public.

"Bill" Farnum need not lose any sleep over the well-known H. C. L., for last week the famous picture star signed a contract with the Fox Film Corporation which calls for a salary split to be unprecedented in this history of filmdom, $780,000 per year, for a period of several years.

When a dramatic artist demands and receives such an immense salary, rest assured that he is worth it, for a gigantic organization like the Fox Film Corporation is conducted strictly on business principles and does not make a practice of spending money foolishly or unwisely.

An actor to be worth such a large yearly stipend must enjoy tremendous popularity and be a wonderful drawing card all over the country. William Farnum is such an individual.

Pictures in which this distinguished actor is featured are shown all the civilized world, and the demand for his productions is ever increasing.

Farnum is one of those big, red-blooded, deep-chested, American-wholesome, fine, unassuming and clean—whom the people of this country most admire. One of the most remarkable demonstrations of appreciation ever given an actor in America was accorded William Farnum in New York during the recent Fourth Liberty loan drive. During the last fortnight of the campaign he visited about ten theaters throughout the city and succeeded in selling $35,000,000 worth of bonds—the largest amount disposed of by any single bond salesman during the drive.

William Farnum comes to the American Theater next Wednesday afternoon for a four days' engagement in his latest success, "His Flight for Freedom," a powerful story of brave man's struggle in the storm of fate.

Glenn Brockwell, "The Strange Woman," and Bert Lyell in "Hitting the High Spots," are the feature photographs at the American today and tomorrow.—Advertisement.

About two years ago when I began taking them I was suffering a great deal from distress after eating, and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a weak liver. ## 2 LEPER BOYS FLEE HOSPITAL, GO TO MOVIES

Beyond the high fence enclosing the grounds of the leper colony at Alameda County Hospital lay a world of pleasant possibilities that Manuel and William Corren, brothers of 12 and 14, decided yesterday to investigate. Affiliated with leprosy they had been confined in the hospital barracks since 1915 and it was more than boy nature could stand.

Over the fence they climbed and disappeared. Soon they were missed and the hunt began. Police of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda joined in. All afternoon the hunt went on, but the boys were not un-garbled.

It was late last night when two glowing youngsters wandered into the hospital.

"Where have you been?" demanded everybody.

"Aw," said William in a lull, "we just went to the movies." They are now under lock and key.

New Hartmann Branch All Ready

The new Oakland branch of the Hartmann Motor Car Co., which was opened last week at 3340 Piedmont avenue, will be completely ready for business within the next few days. M. C. Sousa, general manager of the office, is rushing preparations in order to get down to an aggressive sales campaign by the first of the year. A corps of salesmen is being secured to further the Apperson, Elgin and United States truck interests.

Hartmann has complete sales jurisdiction for the Elgin line in seven Pacific Coast states and his field on the Apperson covers the entire Northern California district. The United States Truck is his latest acquisition and for it he predicts a very good sale.

The Oakland branch will be prepared to care, in every way, for Apperson and Elgin owners, carrying as it will sufficient stock to meet immediate demands.

FIVE INJURED IN CAR SOMERSAULT

When their automobile, everything from Bay Shore boulevard, Richmond, at 7 o'clock last night, turned a complete somersault over a ten-foot embankment and alighted upright on its wheels, five men were thrown out and seriously injured. It was said today at Craven Hospital, Richmond, whether passing automobiles carried them, that they would recover.

What caused the automobile to swerve from its course could not be explained by Paul Hatter, 168 South street, Pullman, who was driving. The lights of the machine were weak, however, and it is believed they failed to reveal some obstacle in the road which turned the wheels aside.

Hatter's left collarbone was broken and he received severe cuts on the head. The other injured are: PINE, ROBERT, 52 South street, Pullman; internal injuries.

SWARTZ, ANTONIO, 522 Franklin place, Oakland; cuts and probable internal injuries.

WESTER, CORNELIUS, 106 South street, Pullman; back injured.

Swartz was unconscious on reaching the hospital and did not recover for more than an hour.

HONORS CERTAIN FOR STATE HEROES

Washington is showing keen interest in California's project to make of April 5 the day for a statewide celebration in honor of California men who went into the fighting forces. The Council of National Defense, composed of Governor Charles C. Moore, of the State Council, requesting full particulars of the plan in order that they may acquaint other states in the Union.

Copies of the following sent to the Council of National Defense, Christmas eve, have been forwarded to California's senators and representatives at Washington and to the senators and assemblymen of the State legislature.

"In appreciative recognition of the honorable service of those Californians who joined the colors, the State Council of Defense of California is preparing plans for a celebration on April 5 to be participated in by every city and community that will support the State's William P. Stephens has announced that he will declare April 5 a State holiday. Chairman of the county division of the State Council here advised that each county must organize its own celebration. State legislature is to be asked to provide funds for a striking special medal to 150,000 California fighting men to be presented April 5 to men who have returned and to the relatives of those not yet demobilized. There is being engraved a golden scroll to be presented by the State to relatives of the 1160 Californians who gave their lives in the war.

The governor has given his hearty approval to this plan," said Director Moore, in a letter which will be received by the county division chairmen today. "While his influence and endorsement, together with the merit carried by the proposition itself would perhaps be sufficient for the legislature to take necessary steps for its accomplishment, it will undoubtedly facilitate the project if you and the members of your division were to meet personally the state senators and assemblymen your county in order that they may have full information of the plans now in process of formation."

The State council will dignify January 31, but has assumed the obligation to complete the plans for the celebration.

At a meeting of the Closing Committee of the Oakland War Service League, Morris N. The response from those reached was reported to be most generous and promising and a group of workers both men and women, will

Rescues His Mother From Burning Home
When an overheated furnace set fire to his home at 3737 Emerson avenue, George Vesper fought his way from the top floor to safety with his invalid mother in his arms. The home was one of the finest in East Oakland. Damage was $15,000.

His clothing ignited by a spark from a grate fire as he played before his Christmas tree, Louis A. Robbins, 6, 630 Linden avenue, San Francisco, died from burns.

Mrs. Julia M. Blison, 41 Arguello boulevard, San Francisco, died from burns received when her nightdress caught fire from a gas heater.

Ackerman's To Move To East
After their long residence in Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ackerman have decided to break up their home, leaving shortly after the New Year for Washington, D. C., to join their youngest daughter, Miss Phyllis Ackerman, who is studying at the University of California. For the future they will establish themselves on the Atlantic Coast. Miss Ackerman, who is one of the brilliant graduates of the University of California, went East more than a year ago to continue her studies under an honor scholarship in one of the large universities. With Miss Thoda Cockcroft, the elder daughter of Mrs. Louis Robbins, she spent some interesting months in New York before taking up serious work. While the war activities were at their height, she was offered a position in Washington as secretary to one of the men high in federal authority and again her plans for study were interrupted. In Washington she has had some remarkable opportunities and experiences.

The Ackermans have lived in Oakland more than a quarter of a century. Miss Ackerman, Miss Brenda Ackerman and Mrs. John Forbes are daughters of the family.

With the rumors that Mark L. Requa will probably be sent by the government to France to direct all interests connected with the war, the Ackermans have decided to leave for the East. Miss Ackerman and Miss Alice Requa, in Washington this year, despite the war, have received social recognition and been admitted to inner circles. Their handsome home has been the center of a most interesting circle of residents, old and new. While back local society believed that it would not be long before the Requa family would again take possession of their Piedmont mansion, but only last week came the rumor that Requa would probably be sent abroad. If he goes, it is quite likely that his family will accompany him.

Mrs. Requa is recovering from the accident which she sustained in Washington during the holidays, when she was run down by a speeding automobile. Although at first her injuries were believed to be quite serious, she is now pronounced out of danger.

New Year's Day will give a whole series of delightful functions arranged with a clear conscience and wholly devoted to pleasure. 1919 will dawn joyously and hosts and hostesses will have sacrificed the delight of bringing their friends together for merrymaking have adopted the first day of the new year as the best time to revive old habits and restore old customs. Madge "Meets" and Rebukes Mr. Brennan.

Misses. Graham! Oh, Misses Graham!

If Katie and I live together as mistress and maid until we are both doddering old women, I do not believe I'll ever be able to cure her whenever she has anything to tell me. It is not that she is disrespectful, or that she does not wish to talk to me, but she is so full of herself, she always travels all the way to wherever I am before delivering her message—but she invariably heralds my name in varying degrees of loudness.

I frowned as I rose, for I feared that she would waken Dicky. It was the day after his attack of lunacy—we had summoned a physician after all, who had quickly diagnosed his mysterious attack of pain, for his burr from Oakland, and I went with which I had bathed his back by mistake and he had spent a sleepless night. I knew that he was sleeping soundly, and I went quickly to the door and put my finger to my lips as Katie reached the top of the stairs.

"Oh, dear, I go forget again!" she said in a stage whisper that I was whimsically sure could have been heard in Crest Haven. "Is Adele Graham asleep?"

"Yes, she is," I said with a hint of sternness, "and you must be very careful not to waken him."

"I s'pose he so mad by me he want to drive me, she said lugubriously, forgetting her errand in her remembrance of the day before when she had given me raw turnip instead of the rheumatism liniment I thought I was receiving."

"Oh, he knew you did, not intend to do it," I answered banally, unwilling to let her know Dicky's real sentiments when he realized that it was Katie who had made the dangerous mistake. I would have tried to ignore the consequences of her carelessness upon her by, for the knowledge gained long ago, that trying to change Katie's mental processes is hopeless. She is a warm-hearted, loyal girl, an efficient in many respects, but as Dicky once expressed it, she has to be taken "as is."

SPANISH INFLUENZA—JUST GRIP CAMOUFLAGED UNDER A NEW NAME

Most Authorities Now Agree That This Disease Is Simply the Old Fashioned Grip, the Same That Has Swept Over the World Times Without Number. Since 1831 the United States Has Had Five Epidemics.

The Last Epidemic in 1889-90 Came From Russia by Way of France and Was Given a French Name, La Grippe. This Time It Comes By Way of Spain.

ORIGIN OF THE DISEASE.
Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C., which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS.
Grip, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially at night, often times a sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.
Go to bed at the first symptoms—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Rest is the only "cure" for influenza and will throw off the attack if only you conserve your strength. A little Quinine, Aspirin or Dover's Powder may be given by the physician's direction to allay the aching. Always call a doctor, since the chief danger of grip is in its weakening effect on the system, which allows complications to develop. These are chiefly pneumonia and bronchitis, sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affection. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS.
In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip

NOTE—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cinnamon, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapor. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all drug stores. While comparatively new in the North, it is the standard home remedy in the South and west for all forms of cold troubles—over six million jars were sold last year. VapoRub is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, as it is externally applied and can, therefore, be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

Couple, on Visit, Die of Influenza
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—On their first visit to the homeland for many years E. A. Clatworthy, official of the Chinese customs service at Shanghai, and his wife, a native daughter of Hollister, Cal., have fallen victims to Spanish influenza, the husband dying yesterday at the Franklin hospital, twenty-four hours after the death of his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy came to San Francisco from China on December 14. On their arrival Clatworthy was received by members of the United States customs service, the courtesies of which were extended to the hotel. They were taken off the steamer by a special tug, and were entertained by many friends in this city. The bodies will be taken to Hollister for interment. Clatworthy was 38 years old, his wife being his junior by three years.

Detectives Believe Consul Ended Life
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—From the testimony that will be given by witnesses at the reopening of the inquest at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning into the death of Luis Alvarez Calderon the authorities hope to determine conclusively whether the Peruvian consul committed suicide or was murdered.

Officials of the Peruvian consulate yesterday still held to the theory that Calderon was murdered on the night of December 18. On the other hand, Detectives Joseph and Julius Hiett expressed the belief that Calderon committed suicide.

Fish Prices
The following are the maximum retail prices for these varieties of fish on December 30, 1918, in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. Dealers are free to sell at lower prices, but should not charge more. Purchasers who are overcharged are invited to make complaint in writing to the State Market Director.

Fishes	Cts. per lb.
Haddock (white fish)	5
Skate	5
Striped bass weighing 5 lbs. or under	20
Calico	25
Sardines	8

ORPHANAGES SWIFT.
GRASS VALLEY, Dec. 30.—About 125 cases of influenza are reported in St. Patrick's and St. Vincent's orphanages maintained here by the Catholic diocese.

STYLE NO. 402, 403, 523

SELF-REDUCING

WING to the extraordinary difficulties in making styles No. 402, 403 and 523 which require the use of the most expensive and skilled operators, the excessive cost of manufacturing, and our unaltered resolution not to deteriorate the quality of material and workmanship, we are forced to increase the prices of these styles.

This advance will go into effect on Monday, January 6, 1919.

Nos. 402 and 403—sizes 22 to 36, advanced from $5.50 to $6.00.
No. 523—sizes 22 to 36, advanced from $6.00 to $7.00.

These three styles have the distinction of having been longer in use than any other corsets. Their hygienic style, ease and extraordinary durability have made them indispensable and invaluable to hosts of women.

WILL ADVANCE IN PRICE MONDAY JANUARY 6TH 1919

U.S. MERCHANT SHIPS SECOND TO ENGLAND'S

By DELL M. EDWARDS,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—"America will have 35 per cent of the world's merchant tonnage after the war," said Edward Nash Hurley, chairman of the National Shipping Board of the United States, in an interview.

"England will have 50 per cent of the tonnage and the other fifteen per cent will mostly be made up by the Scandinavian countries. The taking over of between thirty and forty ships from the White Star line, comprising about 200,000 tons, is now practically agreed upon. Papers are now on their way for the President's signature. Everything was arranged in perfect harmony, the agreement including that the ships are to fly the British flag for three years after the war."

RUSHING TROOPS HOME.
"The chief concern now is getting the American troops home. During the next two weeks from 35,000 to 40,000 will be sent. About the same number will be transported in the following fortnight, then, I am confident, the transportation will reach practically as normal an outgo as the ports of France and America can handle."

"The great ships that were taken over for the movement of troops to Europe will now be used for carrying them home. Of course, the movement of passenger traffic has been curtailed to a minimum, but there need be no worry on the part of persons having legitimate reasons to travel. They will be assisted home. Every effort is being made to smooth out the transportation problems in spite of difficulties."

Mr. Hurley made it clear that there would be no marooning of Americans in France and England. "The bulk of the merchant marine trade after the war will naturally be with England, France, Italy, Spain and Scandinavian countries," continued Mr. Hurley.

KEEP GERMAN LINERS.
"With the Olympic and the Leviathan the United States will have two of the largest vessels. Just as England developed her merchant marine by keeping the bottoms full so will America. In many cases ships will be put on direct schedules to big ports, trialing back and forth full cargoes when the holds are not filled."

"More attention will be paid to South America than before the war. The great increase in traffic which recently developed will be spurred up with even better results."

Mr. Hurley highly praised the work of the army supply department, headed by General Harbord, calling it a "most wonderful organization." The co-operation between this branch and the shipping board was the very closest.

No effort will be made to move back the bulky army supplies to the United States until transportation of the men has been taken care of, said Mr. Hurley, in conclusion.

Identity of Body in Lake Undecided

No identification has been made yet of the body found floating in Lake Merritt, near the municipal boat house, yesterday. The remains had been in the water but a short time. The body was that of a man of about 60 years, poorly dressed. It is at the morgue.

Tanlac Restores Holbrooks' Strength After Attack of "Flu;" Son Full of Energy Now.

"One of the fellows down at the works first put me on Tanlac, and since it has fixed me up so fine, I am not surprised that it is so enthusiastic about it," said J. F. Holbrook, who is employed at the Union Iron Works at Hunter's Point, and who lives at 231 Twenty-seventh street, San Francisco, the other day.

"A month or so ago," he continued, "I came down with an attack of what I supposed was the 'flu,' at least I had all the symptoms of it and was laid up for a week almost helpless, and the way it pulled me down was something fierce. I lost my appetite and didn't want to eat a thing. After getting up I was so weak that my legs would give way under me so I could hardly stand on my feet. My back had been troubling me more or less for several years before and I would have been right over my kidneys. Then, too, I was so nervous that I could hardly get a bit of sleep all night, and would feel worse in the morning than when I went to bed."

"I was given a tonic to build me up, after getting over the 'flu,' but it didn't seem to help me any, then I remembered that several months ago, when I was in a rundown condition, Tanlac put me on my feet, so I decided to try it again, and it sure worked like a charm. All the misery soon disappeared from my back and before I had finished my first bottle my legs and knees were as strong as ever and I haven't had a bit of trouble that way since. My appetite is just splendid and I want to eat all the time, which is why I have gained about five pounds and actually weigh more now than I did before I was laid up. I sleep like a log and get up in the morning feeling rested and ready for a hard day's work. My old-time ailment has been in a rundown condition for some time; in fact, he never was hearty and strong as he should have been. I am giving him a course of Tanlac now, and from the way he eats and frolics with the boys in the neighborhood and never thinks there had ever been anything the matter with him."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world-wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known. For sale by Osgood Bros' Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

LABOR DEPT. LOSES POINT IN BIG PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30. — The Department of Labor represented by U. S. District Attorney Annetto A. Adams, lost the first round in its attempt to keep William J. Armstrong, an assistant of John B. Denmore in his recent probe of the activities of certain officials of this county, from the witness stand of the McCarthy grand jury when presiding Judge E. T. Morgan overruled a demurrer to the affidavit of Foreman McCarthy which brought Armstrong into Judge Morgan's court today to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for refusing to answer questions put to him by the grand jury.

The United States District Attorney raised the point that the McCarthy affidavit did not disclose facts pertinent to the alleged willful misconduct charged against District Attorney Adams. Assistant U. S. Attorney General E. T. Morgan, who represented the grand jury today, Judge Morgan then making a decision from the bench as to whether Armstrong shall testify or be held in contempt for his refusal.

SUPERVISORS IN CLOSING SESSION

The Board of Supervisors adjourned its last session for the year and the last session of the board as at present constituted today. The new board will be constituted at the meeting of January 6. There still remains a vacancy, due to the resignation of Fred V. Foss. Among the latest names mentioned as his successor is that of Mrs. Dunham McHaffie, formerly of the County Welfare Board.

County Surveyor Perry A. Hayland reported to the supervisors today that $4,000 feet of heavy cedar timbers necessary to complete the top flooring of the estuary bridge is unobtainable owing to the closing down of the mills. The contractors have asked permission to complete the flooring with fir, deducting from the original estimate the amount of the difference in cost. The matter was left to the engineer to arrange and he gave assurance that the work of completing the repairs will not be delayed.

Miss Leve Hicks was appointed secretary to the superintendent of Arroyo Sanatorium at a salary of $110 a month.

The resolution closing Catalina avenue in Thousand Oaks requested by the school district, was passed. The street is closed one block to unify the grounds at the new school center.

ASKS $50,000 FOR SEDITION ALLEGATIONS

Alleging false arrest and imprisonment on a malicious charge of sedition, Leroy E. Parodi, formerly employed at the Hotel Grand Central, filed suit today for $50,000 damages against Nora Gardner and Elizabeth Leach.

The complaint alleges that the defendants went to Policewoman Pauline H. Byrd and orally charged the plaintiff with saying that the "President is a damn grifter and an Englishman. You have to hand it to the Germans; they are good mechanics and tradespeople, which is more than you can say of the Americans. I wouldn't raise a gun against the Germans. If I were drafted a dozen times."

It is alleged that after being confined in jail for three days he was acquitted and exonerated. The plaintiff says that though he has a wife and child he did not ask for deferred classification in the draft, and that he is a loyal American.

Ketchup and Coffee Are Hurdled in Case

Throwing ketchup at the proprietress of a restaurant and decorating a pretty waitress with coffee will probably result in much worse for Charles Anderson, Thomas Gallia, Joseph Wheeler, Charles Downey, Louis Lafaele, Roy Lenz and George Murphy, boys between 15 to 21, under arrest as the result of a wild night at the restaurant at 2500 San Pablo avenue.

A disagreement over food served caused the trouble. The boys will be examined Tuesday by Police Judge Mortimer Smith.

William May, Ship Worker, Flu Victim

William May, an employee of the San Francisco shipbuilding company at its cement shipbuilding plant on Government Island in the estuary, died Sunday of influenza. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of his mother, Mrs. May, 425 Valencia street, San Francisco.

The deceased was 35 years of age and is survived by a wife and two children, a member of Local No. 117 of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers of the city.

Albert E. Hill Made Administrator Aide

Albert E. Hill, son of Public Administrator J. A. Hill, was today appointed deputy public administrator, and will be in charge of the office of the administrator.

Mr. Hill was appointed attorney to assist Attorney Abe P. Leach.

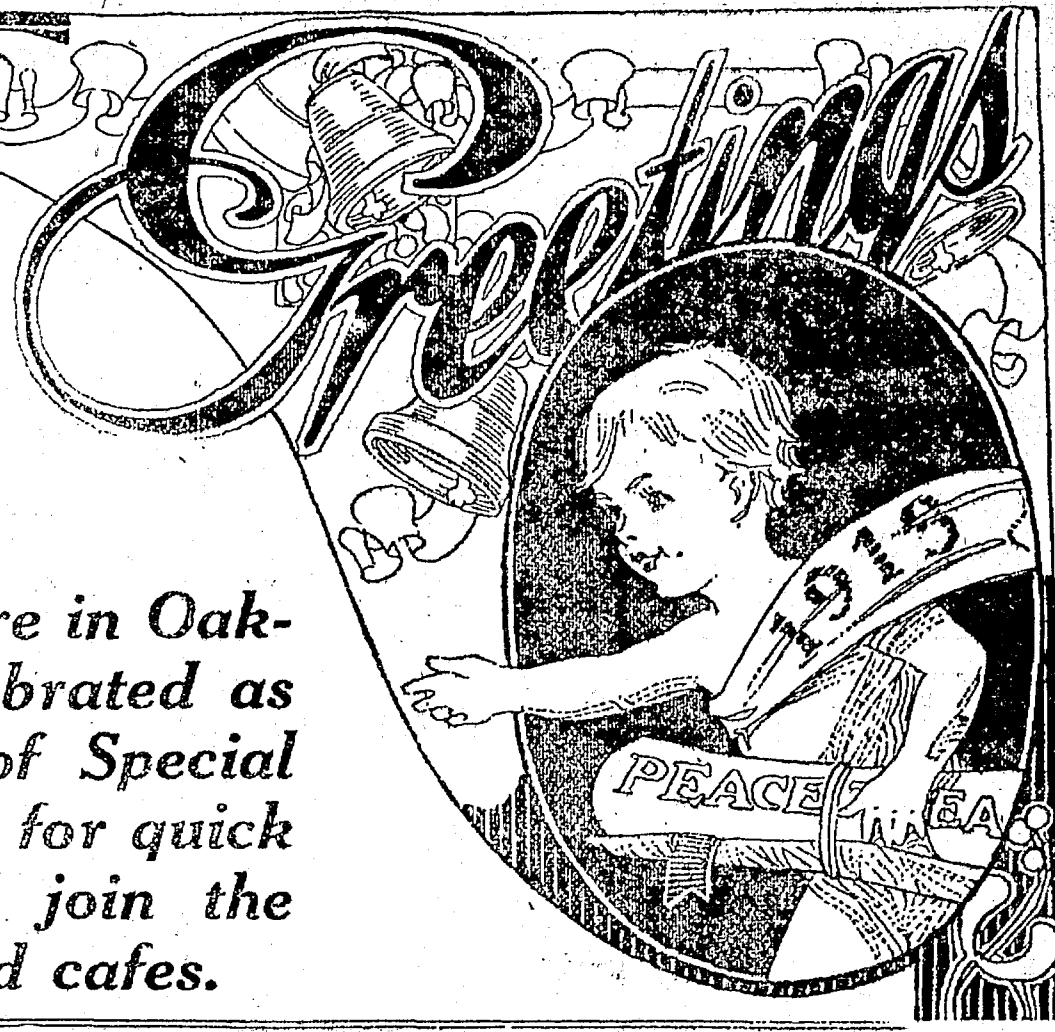

Young Hill had just returned from the University of California.

ACCUSED BY LITTLE GIRL Ferry Worker, Was Arrested

Ferry worker, was arrested early this morning by Inspector Con Kelle on a charge preferred by a four-year-old girl. He is being held for police court examination.

ZIONISTS FORM ALAMEDA BODY

A preliminary meeting of friends of the Zionist movement, originated by the Jewish people of the world, was held yesterday in Zion hall, Ninth and Cass streets.

John Golder, Oakland pioneer, called the meeting to order and stated the object of the gathering was to register all Jewish residents of Alameda county so as to increase the national membership.

Golder introduced Marvin M. Lowenthal, Pacific coast organizer in charge of the Zionist bureau for the coast.

Lowenthal dwelt upon the general scheme of organization and member-

SAN FRANCISCO MEMORIAL FOR HEROES HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Flour was done today to the memory of soldiers and sailors who died in the service of the allied nations. Impressive memorial services were held at the Civic Auditorium. Five hundred French troops, in San Francisco en route to Siberia, and contingents from local army and navy units, lent color to the affair. Rev. Archbishop Hanna and Canon Cabanel, chaplain of the "Blue Devils," preached sermons. Admiral Jayne headed the navy contingent and Major-General Morrison the army units. The choir of St. Mary's Cathedral and military bands furnished the music.

At the Franklin, Elsie Ferguson and Eugene O'Brien meet Under the Greenwood Tree.—Advertisement.

No Council Meeting Planned This Week

ALAMEDA, Dec. 30.—There will be no council meeting this week. The next meeting of the council will be a week from tomorrow night, January 6. The board of education will meet tomorrow night.

3 OAKLAND BOYS ON CASUALTY LIST

Three Oakland boys are among the casualties reported by the war department today. Private Howard Jarrett, next of kin Mrs. Margaret Jarrett, general delivery, Oakland, is listed as having been killed in action. Jarrett was attached to a marine corps.

Corporal Frederick Green Wright, next of kin Mrs. Dolly F. Wright, 771 Alcatraz avenue, and Corporal Eliza S. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Martin, 1277 Seventeenth avenue, are reported severely wounded.

According to Corporal Martin's parents, who have just received a letter from the young man, he is in New York and is doing nicely. He writes that he will probably be at home within a few weeks.

Private Francis L. Mix, next of kin Frank Mix, Alameda (no other address given), is listed as severely wounded.

Other Californians listed among the casualties are:

KILLED IN ACTION. Engineer Baker, Ball, Elmonte; Private Patrick H. Duggan, Bangor; Private William F. Grubb, San Francisco; Private Clyde L. Morey, Windsor; Private Arthur J. Nelson, Los Angeles.

Private William J. Lowe, Manteca; Corporal Jesse C. Pickett, Compton. MISSING IN ACTION. Lieutenant Herbert Kennedy, Santa Ana; Private James A. McPhail, Bakersfield; Private Enrique Chavez, Los Angeles.

MARINE CASUALTIES. Wounded severely—Private William L. Davis, Sonoma; Private James H. Holland, San Francisco. Missing in action—Private Curtis F. Grissom, San Francisco.

Wm. Young, Former Athlete, Is Dead. William ("Cy") Young, 25, engineer of the State Highway Commission, died at Napa last Thursday. He was a graduate in engineering of St. Mary's College, 1915, where he had been prominent in athletics and class president in his senior year.

"13" SPELLS TRAGEDY FOR U.C. AVIATOR

Tragedy instead of good luck lurked in the No. 13 for Lieutenant Wayne B. Stephenson, well known former student at the University of California, news of whose death in battle over the German lines at Metz has just reached his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Stephenson, 112 Ward street, Berkeley, after a silence of three months.

Reported "missing in combat" on September 13, no word came to the Stephensons of their son's fate until today, when news was received from Washington bearing information from the German government that the young Berkeley flyer had been buried at Metz on the day he was listed as missing. According to additional information coming from Washington young Stephenson had volunteered for an "unusually hazardous" mission, which, it is declared by the war department that he accomplished despite his death. News received at Washington from the German government gives no details of the Berkeley flyer's fate, but states that he fell behind the German lines and was buried at Metz while the American forces were conducting their bombardment.

FOLLOWED BY "13." Followed persistently by the No. 13 in his career as a flyer, news that he was reported missing on September 13 brought hope to the youth's mother, who declared that only luck had come from that number for her son. Enlistment on April 13, 1917, Lieutenant Stephenson began a spectacular career as an aviator which sent him to France several months later on the 13th of the month. After being chosen as the one of two Americans in the famous French "Spad" Escadrille, Lieutenant Stephenson brought down several boche planes, winning the croix de guerre for his gallantry in battle. Word of his death came on August 13, when his machine was brought down by German bullets, reached the Stephensons just prior to the news that he had failed to return to the allied lines when sent on a hazardous mission just exactly a month later. Today's news of his death on a day which had heretofore meant only good fortune for him writes the final chapter in the young hero's career.

MEMBER OF U. C. CLASS. Lieutenant Stephenson was 23 years old and was a member of the 1918 class of the University of California, where he was prominent in the Delta Tau fraternity. Giving up his college work to enlist in the aviation corps he entered the school of military aeronautics at the University of California, from where he was sent to France to train in famous flying schools.

"Niagara Falls" in Police Judge's Court

It was a lachrymose session in the police court of Judge Mortimer Smith today, when Louis Depello, of Elmhurst, came to trial. He was arrested for shooting in the city limits. He said he didn't know the hills were within the city—and that he had a wife and six children. Then he gave an imitation of Niagara Falls. "Sentence suspended," said the judge, "and call a janitor, with a mop, to clear out these here bitter, bitter tears!" All of which was duly done.

THOMAS F. GAFNEY DIES. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—After an illness of a week, Thomas F. Gafney, assistant city attorney, died at his home, 704 Eighteenth street, yesterday, a victim of influenza.

Girl Injured When Two Autos Collide

SAN JOSE, Dec. 30.—Miss Constance Blackman, niece of the Rev. James V. Kramer, pastor of the First Baptist church, was seriously injured when two automobiles crashed together at Orchard and San Carlos sts. The accident was due, it is said, to the fact that the drivers of both machines were blinded by the sun. Miss Blackman was hurled from one machine to the sidewalk and sustained a bad gash on one side of the head and a dislocated neck. Miss Blackman was riding with Miss Hazel Amerline.

LIBERTY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Those who come to us from foreign shores must learn the first lesson of American citizenship—namely, that in all matters of personal conduct there is an exact ratio which must be preserved between outer restraint and inner control, that as the outer restraint is lessened the inner control must be increased. Where the external control ceases the internal must begin. The law that is supreme in every man's life is the law which he himself legislates. The only free man in this world is the one who is self-governed.

This statement by Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university is not a speculation in the psychology of individual conduct and motives. It is a statement of a fundamental condition to the peaceful and orderly life of individuals grouped together for their joint and mutual interests. If every man and woman comprehended this condition and accepted it as an inviolable guide there would be no need for statutory law and courts and police officials. Humanity would have reached that point called universal justice.

To even comprehend this idea it is necessary to realize and recognize the obligations of liberty as well as its rights. Indeed, there is need for great emphasis upon the obligations. They have been too long and too freely overlooked. Dr. Hibben says there are two axiomatic propositions in connection with this thought:

"The first is there is no true freedom without a sense of responsibility, and the second is that there can be no sense of responsibility if one holds a self-centered philosophy of life. The other side of every right we claim as our own is an obligation to accord a corresponding right to another. The egoistic point of view insists that a man has a right to do as he pleases; but what he pleases must be tempered by the consideration of the right of others."

The academic manner of utterance does not seem so "high brow" when considered in the light of recent and current happenings. They were not intended as hypothetical conclusions and the applications are so obviously pertinent that we cannot suspect the learned Princeton president of intending generalities.

The rule of responsibility is receiving very serious consideration in all enlightened quarters. Leading Socialists are acknowledging it, except the Pro-German clique. Operators of large business and industrial undertakings speak of it frequently. Mr. Schwab, Mr. Gary, Mr. Hurley and Mr. John D. Rockefeller Jr. have dwelt upon the subject in public speeches. Mr. Samuel Gompers mentioned it in a recent address in New York city, although his reference was cloaked in an appeal to class passion. The Ally governments and the military organizations are showing their sense of responsibility in dealing among themselves and with the enemy powers.

There is another side which is not so encouraging. Germany waged war on the idea that a man or nation has a right to do what he or it pleases, scorning to temper her methods by a consideration of the rights of others. It remains to be seen whether the German people will repudiate this idea. The Bolsheviks of Russia are making an extreme application of it. They recognize none but themselves as deserving consideration or possessing rights. It is reported that in distributing food to the starving in towns under their control the Bolsheviks allow relief to be given only to the "Reds." This shows a savage lack of sense of responsibility.

In contradistinction, we observe the Ally preparing to feed those of the enemy who may be in need of food. They refrain from doing what they have the power to do and what would please the lawless to do to enemy peoples.

They show self-control and a sense of responsibility under moral law in an ideal degree. Not guilty of superficial thinking, free of emotional frenzy, they give an example of that restraint essential to the individual aspiring to maximum liberty.

law. Freedom which knows no control and recognizes no law is license, and license is anarchy. When the red flag is carried upon our streets it is a protest against law and therefore a menace to our free institutions."

CORN AND REVOLUTION.

Prof. Zeferino Dominguez, a Mexican savant, asserts that the scarcity of corn is one of the causes, if not the only one, of revolution in Mexico. Naturally there will be some hesitancy in accepting this explanation for a regime of nation-wide disorder which has prevailed for over five years. One is inclined to be diffident about accepting any contention that political disturbances in Mexico are due to a single cause.

But the view of Prof. Dominguez deserves serious attention. He puts the proposition something like this:

Corn constitutes the food of 90 per cent of the people of Mexico. The value of corn in making tortillas is $160,000,000 annually, and the number of women employed in this industry is about one million. At 50 cents as the minimum daily wage of each of these women, the manufacture of tortillas costs $182,000,000. Thus the total cost of the national food is $342,000,000 annually, approximately $1,000,000 a day.

This is not a huge item when compared to the food costs of the United States in this day of billions, but it is respectably large in Mexico. When the crop fails the government is obliged to import corn, for it recognizes that hunger is one of the incentives to revolutions. Prof. Dominguez pursues the reasoning thus:

"The human body and mind have an intimate relation with food. In many places in Mexico the inhabitants live on tortillas alone. If the corn is poor in quality, lacking in oil, protein and carbohydrates, it has little food value and the consequences are debility and degeneration of the race. Tuberculosis and other sicknesses make ravages among a people who subsist on food lacking nutritive value."

This theory connecting food and revolution is not a new one. The question has arisen before and the attempts to answer it have widely differed. Once upon a time the people of Paris cried for bread, and when told there was none to give them Marie Antoinette asked why they were not given cake. For failing to appreciate the situation Marie Antoinette lost her head. If the Mexican people need corn and if corn will prevent revolution, why not give it to them? will be the query of many Americans who remember that the United States produces from two and a half to three billion bushels annually and usually has a surplus.

But this would hardly suffice. Idleness is also a cause for disorder. Corn, being the food of ninety percent of the people, is the most important agricultural crop. Its production and preparation is vital to the industrial and business life of Mexico. If the crop is good the farmer is in a condition to meet his obligations, pay off the mortgage or put money in the bank. He can buy cotton cloth for the home-made clothing and many other useful things. If there is plenty of corn, the necessary food item, there is a normal production of sugar, tobacco, rubber, jute, wheat, barley, pulque, fruits, and there is commercial intercourse between the corn-grower and the other producers of Mexico.

It is important therefore that Mexico produce her own corn. That country was the cradle of corn in America. It was grown there long before the New World was discovered. Would it not be a wise policy of government, therefore, to guard against failures in the corn crop? Certainly there is room for improvement of the methods of cultivation. The acreage can be increased by irrigation. The soil can be so tilled that it will produce a larger yield. The area of cultivation can be extended, so if there is failure in one section there will be a crop in other sections. Vast fertile areas are untouched by plow or hoe or farm tractor. Mexico could produce a vast surplus of corn for export.

Perhaps there will come a time when German propagandists in Mexico are silenced, when President Carranza and his advisers forget their distrust of the United States. Then an altruistic attempt to give Mexico corn education might be made. If the Mexicans have an adequate supply of tortillas they will be able to produce many other things for export. Thus they will gain a surplus over the cost of a meagre existence. They will be prosperous and as happy as any people used to revolution can be without revolution.

It couldn't have been expected that Nevada would go dry before California. Not desiring to put it in an offensive sense, that State has a rarer civilization, being sparsely settled and given over to mining—and miners as a general thing favoring a stronger beverage than water. That State and this at the last election each had an initiative provision designed to abolish drink of all kinds. The Nevada measure carried by some 4000 majority. It went into effect December 17. By it 795 saloons were closed. There are three breweries in the State, and it is announced that they will be converted into creameries. The spectacle of the man from Nevada tortifying himself on milk is one that ought to appeal to the humorists of the State.

If during the next week you notice a lot of men wearing red neckties, don't put them down as Bolshevik "Reds" or Spartacist anarchists. Just remember the predilections of woman at Christmas time.

NOTES and COMMENT

Automatic marriage is something new. It is advocated by the Illinois Women's Legislative Congress. It may not be as bad as it sounds. It is urged in those instances where a child has made its appearance whose parents have not gone the usual marriage route, such appearance to be prima facie of the legal status of the pair. If such a measure should be enacted it wouldn't of necessity constitute a revolution.

It is not on the face of it entirely clear about an army being sent to take up a position in the vicinity of a German war prison. It was supposed that the armistice provided for the immediate liberation of all allied prisoners. But if there are any still held by the Huns it is right to see that they are decently treated.

Swiss officials know what to do with the I. W. W. Only they call them Bolsheviks over there. The Swiss authorities lead them to the border and propel them across. That is easy when the border is so near. But it is the thing to do, even if it is accomplished with great trouble.

They are late with it, but sooner or later we were bound to hear that tanks and submarines are ancient. If they will put their proof than that about the Trojan horse as to the tanks they may get a hearing; but there is no familiar story that will help out as to the subs. There must be new evidence on that head if it is proved that the sub is not modern.

If it is true that General Ludendorff is to command the Russian front it will be realized that he has gotten into a zone of warfare much to his taste. The new job will have the further merit of making it easy to locate him when the allies get around to his case.

Censor Creel's assurance that although he has not resigned he is going to do so right off makes it perfectly satisfactory.

The Germans are making some headway in carrying out the armistice conditions. The fact that they first stole the locomotives and cars that they find it so difficult to return doesn't make restitution any easier. In fact, it comes hard for the Hun to give up anything, however he came in possession of it.

While the allies have been decent to the German populations in the occupied zone they are not proving any easier to the Germans at first seemed to think because they were not ruthless in the Hun way they were taken to be stupid.

Close-up photographs of the former crown prince, recently arrived, confirm it. His chin is not aggressive at all.

The Governor's birthday and the President's crowd each other. The Governor's occurred on the 26th, and the President's two days later. The President has the edge, however, by three years.

We have come a long way since 1776. The idea is suggested when one reads about the King of England and the President of the United States having "a long private chat."

The heading, "European Nations to Buy American Chasers," should be amplified before a device construction can be placed upon it. The chasers that Uncle Sam is to unload are of the kind devised to overtake the German U-boats. There are chasers and chasers.

SPRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

There was a family named Bean in Alameda and one day the story brought them twin boys. So they called one William Samuel and the other they called Samuel William. Then came the war and anybody can see what a devil of a time the ex-governor had had trying to keep William Samuel and Samuel William in their proper places in the affidavits. There were times when the board fervently agreed with Sherman—Stockton Record.

Quite as important as building permanent highways is maintaining them. It is a waste of money to construct roads unless there is some well-defined and well-executed plan of upkeep. No "permanent" road is permanent in these days of automobiles and rapid travel, and that was never more forcibly illustrated than by the condition of the State highway between here and San Francisco, Lakerfield California.

Lloyd Allen writes from "Somewhere in Siberia" to his parents here that there was a heavy snowfall there and the men are all dressed in furs, making a pretty sight at the inspection recently held. He says they also indulge in sports to keep warm and that all are in good health, with no influenza prevalent there.—Livermore Echo.

The Governor's committee on efficiency and economy is progressing rapidly with the preliminary work of whipping a new system of state government into form, and will be ready very soon to seek advice. For that matter any one who has a good, workable plan to offer may step up any day to the lieutenant governor's apartments on the third floor of the state board of control, and tell Secretary J. C. Whitman about it. Or, if he can't find the time, he can write to the committee, through the mail.—Sacramento Union.

The news comes that the population of California's penitentiaries is decreasing. And Warden Johnston attributes it to war conditions and an increased demand for labor. Which ought to be a reminder that there are cheaper—than anything of more humane—methods of dealing with crime than waiting until after it is committed and then "punishing" the criminals.—Fresno Republican.

WHAT ARE THE WILD WAVES SAYING?

WEATHER REPORT

Forecast.

Oakland and vicinity: Fair, continued cold, light frost in the early morning; moderate northerly winds. Northern California and the three valleys: Fair, continued cold, heavy frost in the early morning; moderate northerly winds.

Southern California: Fair, probably light frost in the interior in the early morning; moderate westerly winds. Nevada: Fair and continued cold. Idaho: Fair, except probably snow southeast portion; continued cold. Washington and Oregon: Fair, colder tonight east portion; moderate northerly winds.

Conditions.

An energetic low pressure area is centered over northern Arizona and a large high pressure area over the Canadian northwest. Rain and snow have fallen in Arizona and snow has occurred in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, northern Idaho, northeastern Washington and northern Minnesota. It is much colder in the northern Rocky mountain states and in the upper Missouri valley. Temperatures have also fallen decidedly in Nevada and in the southern portion of northern California. It is warmer in the eastern portion of southern California. Conditions are favorable for fair weather in this district tonight and Tuesday, except in southeastern Idaho, where snow will probably fall. Low temperatures will continue and heavy frosts will form in the early morning and light frosts will form in the interior of southern California.

LIKESNESS HARD TO FIND.

Of all queer comparisons surely about the queerest is that of a paper for Rome, the Epoch, which says: "No man in Europe since Napoleon has been more popular than President Wilson, and none has been more beloved." The purpose of this statement evidently is to be complimentary, and there is no excuse for doubting that the writer was sincere, but how did Napoleon happen to come into his mind while he was thinking of something to say about President Wilson? In all history there are probably no two men who are more widely unlike—who earned popularity and love in ways more utterly different. As a matter of fact, too, Napoleon was far from popular and quite the reverse of beloved in many and large parts of Europe, and that was true from the beginning to the end of his wonderful career. By millions and millions of Europeans he was feared, and as a natural consequence, hated. Regard for him was confined pretty closely to France.—New York Times.

Reconstruction in Home Town

By GERALD B. BREITIGAM

The Home Town paper has a lot to say these days about the problems due to the return of the boys from the army. As might have been expected, "Doc" Brewster is glooming over the outlook. But then in 1914 "Doc" saw that the Germans were going to be in Paris in ten days and in command of the channel in twelve. In 1916 he knew the French couldn't stand the war strain any longer and he hated to give them up. No, "Doc" isn't a pro-German. He isn't pro-anything, that's the trouble; never "for" and always "agin." There's old Henry Mossman, though. Henry runs the Big Store on Center Square, the cotton mill and a bank. A lot of young fellows left all three of Henry's businesses left hard, but he put in women and kept going. When it learned the boys soon would be returning, Home Town at once leaped to the question of what would Henry do about it. At first Henry kept silent and Home Town didn't know the worry he underwent; for Henry was getting excellent results with women workers and he hated to give them up. Most worked for less than he paid men. On the human side of the equation, moreover, was his knowledge that almost without exception they needed employment. What perturbation Henry suffered as he milled his problem over, sprawled out in a chair up there a little back from his office window looking out across Center Square to the Court House Lawn opposite, where the small band of volunteers used to drill nightly with broomsicks under Captain Jed Barker, a veteran of the Philippines, nobody will know. It was Henry's own little Armageddon; for Henry likes money as well as the next man, and he saved money by hiring women. And there were other factors, too. But Henry won. The next day the Home Town paper announced that the Mossman Institutions would give his old job back to every former employee returning from military service, and this was the best—that every woman worker would be kept on the payrolls until she found other employment or made arrangements which would satisfy Mr. Mossman of her ability to get along. Other Home Town employers trailed along, adopting Henry's plan. The paper said editorially that this meant the absolute elimination in Home Town of the reconstruction period labor problem, and called on Home Town to give thanks for the finest Christmas in its history. The only dampener came from "Doc" Brewster. He said this scheme of Henry Mossman's was so simple there was bound to be a trick somewhere, folks would see. But everybody knows "Doc."

No Cause for Complaint.

"See here!" exclaimed the stranger as he stumbled into his twentieth puddle. "I thought you said you knew where all the bad places were on this road?" "Well," replied the native, who had volunteered to guide him through the dark, "we're a findin' them, ain't we?"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

A Hint.

Intrepid Widow: "Speaking of conundrums, Mr. Slocom' here's a good one: 'Why is the letter 'd' like a wedding ring?'" Proserustinating Bachelor: "Oh, I'm no good at conundrums."

Intrepid Widow: "You give it up? Why, because 'we' can't be 'wed' without it?"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

The Proof.

The civilian workers employed by the army transport service on the boats running to and from the States always more or less mystify the newcomers to the base ports. They cannot understand how or why any man in civil clothing should both speak and understand American unless he were the Secretary of War or Colonel House or somebody.

"Can it," said one of the A. T. S. men the other day, when a "two-striper" asked him a question in French. "I'm an American."

"Then why," inquired the old-timer, "don't you wear your Elks' pin to prove it?"—Stars and Stripes, France.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

What Causes a Sty and How It Is Cured by Simple Remedies.

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG

A. M. D., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University)

A sty is a little nest of vicious bacteria, huddling together in a pore of the eyelid. There they breed a brood of offspring, which are promptly set upon by the living outposts of the tissues and the blood. The upheaval of this unequal combat is an anti-hill of debris, dead bacteria, white blood corpuscles, blood and tissue "cells." The eruption shows itself as a swollen, red, sore, pimple or pustule.

Left severely alone, a sty will reach its most distressing stage about the third day and begin to disappear about the fifth day.

Styes really arise from at least two casual facts—bacteria or vegetable germs, or a scratch, wound or strain of the eyelid membrane. If the eyes stare and pull their muscles, because glasses are needed, this causes torn tissues and microscopic invisible. From all this it is plain that uncorrected near-sightedness, far-sightedness, astigmatism, muscle strain and fatigue are hospitable invitations to the growth of a sty.

An examination of the eyes calls for a search for astigmatism and other vision disorders. It may disclose granulated lids or a distemper easily treated.

The sty itself, when present, is to be treated the same as a boil or an infected wound.

If you are as silly and as unanalytical as those who tell you wonderful tales of cures with onions, bacon, garlic and raw meat, you will jeopardize your eyesight and calm yourself into a false sense of security. On the other hand, if you will apply the proved facts, namely, that a sty is a localized bunch of growing germs at war with the eyelid fabric, just as a boil is a battle between the tissues and the bacteria, you will be able to treat it safely and practically.

White precipitate ointment, one part, and vaseline, one part, placed upon the sty will aid the tissues and "wing" the germ tribe.

Hot boracic acid water alternated with cool boracic acid water hastens the defeat of the enemy. The ointment can be used at home and at night, whereas the antiseptic water mentioned can be applied at business and when a normal appearance is desirable.

Ordinarily a sty thus treated will disappear in two days, but it may return unless the underlying cause is found and removed.

OAKLAND'S ARTILLERY TO GET HURRAH

Oakland's own, the 134th Field Artillery, is going to parade for the home folk.

It may be Thursday. It may not be until Friday. But Batteries A, B and C, under Colonel E. J. Faneuf, as they come from the East on their way to demobilization at the Presidio, will stop here for several hours. That has been definitely arranged.

Permission from the War Department for Colonel Faneuf to halt his command here has been received from Adjutant General E. J. Harris of Washington. In a telegram to Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough. Previously the telephone wires had been kept hot with messages between Oakland, Washington and Chicago.

The trains are coming over the Western Pacific and will be met at the Second and Broadway station.

Word from Colonel Faneuf, now somewhere between Omaha and the coast with his command, also has been received.

"Will gladly arrange to stop at Oakland," he telegraphed Postmaster Rosborough.

When the two special trains bearing the three batteries of the 134th, which are with Colonel Faneuf, will arrive has not been announced yet.

But these in charge of the plans for the reception are going to see to it that the reception will be at a time or day when everybody can participate. If the train arrives late at night, it is probable it will be held above Benicia, until morning.

FOR OAKLAND PARADE.

The homecoming artillerymen, most of them sons of Oakland, will be met at the train and escorted in a parade through the downtown business district to the Defenders' Club. The Fort Scott Artillery Band will lead. There they will be given plect, cakes and pastries prepared by Oakland housewives. And Mr. Hoover is no longer sitting on the lid of the white horse barrel.

What route the parade will follow will not be decided until further information as to the time of arrival. This and other details of the event will be taken up at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland tonight of the committee of fifty appointed by Mayor John L. Davis. Alexander Stuart of the Defenders' Club, one of the foremost in bringing the regiment here, has been working on arrangements at the Presidio today and will report to the committee tonight.

The extension classes of the University of California have a larger enrollment than in any other university. A class in advertising and business training will be opened in room 103, Hotel Oakland, Tuesday evening at 7:30, January 7. The instructor will be Samuel P. Johnston, who is now completing the fourth series along the same lines. The fee is $5 for the fifteen lessons.

The extension class secretary at Berkeley 7100 will give further information upon request.

Capt. Badger, Who Defied U-Boats in War Zone, in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.

First-hand tales of U-boat warfare and the trials of merchant ships during the war were told today by Captain W. C. Badger, master of the Standard Oil tanker, Colonel E. L. Drake, which was the first armed merchantman to leave San Francisco harbor.

Badger made five round trips to Europe with the Drake and on two occasions his ship encountered the pirates, both times outwitting the Germans. Several trips were with large convoys of merchantmen, as many as forty-five being in one convoy.

Badger is the oldest master in point of service with the Standard Oil Company. He left the Drake in New York because of illness.

WAITERS FIGHT; SAY DISLOYALTY

Police investigation is on today, following fracas in the Hotel Oakland dining room, when, before a crowded Sunday night crowd, a Coleman, a waiter, vociferously accused Henry Flohr, captain of waiters, of being a "pro-German," and then struck the chief of the dining room across the face with a leather checkbook. By-standers halted the fight at this stage, and each man today is demanding a warrant from the police for the arrest of the other.

Flohr says that after he rebuked the waiter for carrying a dish lengthways instead of crossways, the waiter turned on him and assailed him. He wants a warrant for Coleman on a disturbing the peace charge. Coleman says he overheard Flohr making disloyal utterances, and wants a warrant for the latter. In the meantime the conflicting stories of the two men are being probed before any warrant is issued at all.

Flohr was naturalized in 1911, and came here recently from Mexico. He says that Coleman was in trouble once before for slapping another waiter.

What route the parade will follow will not be decided until further information as to the time of arrival. This and other details of the event will be taken up at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland tonight of the committee of fifty appointed by Mayor John L. Davis.

Alexander Stuart of the Defenders' Club, one of the foremost in bringing the regiment here, has been working on arrangements at the Presidio today and will report to the committee tonight.

OAKLAND TO SPEED TRADE WITH LATINS

That active steps are being taken by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to promote trade between this country and South American countries is the announcement of representatives of that body, following a telegram from Buenos Aires to the effect that British and French business men are building up a big trade with these countries, while America remains practically inactive.

According to representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, many letters are being received from South American countries inquiring about the purchase of all kinds of machinery, automobiles, farming implements and other useful supplies.

These letters are sent out in circular form by the manufacturers' committee to local factories and to representatives of big manufacturing interests in United States and South American countries. This work is gaining in scope, it is said, and gives promise of great future development.

Announcement was also made today that Secretary Redfield has launched a fight to lower trans-Pacific freight rates. Destruction of America's Oriental trade by prevailing high rates unless immediate relief is had was forecast by Redfield.

Called upon the Shipping Board "to get busy and save the situation," it was stated authoritatively.

According to a United Press dispatch to THE TRIBUNE, British and French business men are leaving the American traders at the post. It is reported here that at least a score of ships loading for South America are in the United States waters.

The fact that there are no sailings from America, according to the dispatch, is unaccountable to American officials who are weary of reading talk by American officials regarding the great trade future with South America.

The mails from Europe in Buenos Aires are much more frequent than those from the United States. Arrival of mail is almost an occasion for celebration by members of the American colony.

Citizenship Plea to

Be Heard by Quinn

Permission has been received from the government for procedure in the naturalization application of Karl August Rode, a German tugboat captain. His case will come up before Judge Quinn January 24, and it will be the first application of a German to be finally heard since the United States entered the war.

The application was made under the naturalization law passed by congress last May providing for the naturalization of enemy aliens who can show a history of loyalty to the United States and whose application for citizenship was made not less than two years prior to the declaration of war.

Urgent Appeal For Nurses by Charity Workers

The Associated Charities is making an appeal today for nurses. On Saturday the local office received thirteen calls for nurses, and today many more, which it has been unable to fill. One call this morning was from a family of six, every member of which needed the ministrations of a nurse.

Mrs. Florence Hill, head of the local office, suggests that perhaps some of the persons who received such splendid voluntary service at the Auditorium Red Cross Hospital during the recent epidemic will come forth now, that they have regained their health, and show their appreciation by offering to care for these newly-afflicted patients.

Graduate nurses, practical nurses or volunteers are asked to register at once with the Associated Charities, Room A, City Hall, where arrangements may be completed for taking care of these families.

These callers are sent out in circular form by the manufacturers' committee to local factories and to representatives of big manufacturing interests in United States and South American countries. This work is gaining in scope, it is said, and gives promise of great future development.

VESPER BOY IS FREED OF BANK CHARGE

Following a three-day incarceration in the Detention Home in Oakland on a charge of stealing funds from a Wisconsin bank, 14-year-old Frederick Vesper is back at his home, 1339 Bay street, Alameda.

This morning his mother explained that the case had been settled and that the arrest was a mistake in the first place. She said that as soon as she got into communication with her brother, who is managing owner of the Colby State Bank at Nelsville, Wisconsin, that the matter had been arranged.

It was the Wisconsin banker uncle of the boy who took Harry Hewitt of Colby county wire to Alameda for the boy's arrest.

Mrs. Vesper, the boy's mother, declined to go into details of the case, merely saying, "The whole thing is a mistake and my son was released as soon as I could get into communication with the right parties in the east. The boy was only detained in Oakland for a day. Everything has now been settled."

Young Vesper left Alameda several weeks ago with his grandmother to visit eastern relatives, including the banker uncle at Nelsville. He returned to Alameda unattended recently, explaining that he had grown tired of visiting and wanted to come home, and saying that as long as he had made the trip before he felt confident that he would get along all right without anyone to accompany him. A dispatch to the Alameda police asked to have the boy taken into custody. He was arrested Friday night by Detective George Brown and taken to the Detention Home. Saturday the Alameda police received word that Vesper was wanted on a charge of taking $500 in cash from the bank vault. "The boy formerly attended Washington school. His mother, Mrs. Alvina Vesper, is a wealthy woman who has money on deposit in the bank of her brother at Nelsville."

Elizabeth Killam

Dies of Pneumonia

Mrs. Elizabeth Killam, died Saturday at her home, 1418 College avenue, a victim of influenza pneumonia. She is survived by seven children: Jack Killam, an Oakland banker; Frank Killam, Miss Ruth Killam, with the Alameda School Department; Miss Jeanette Killam, formerly secretary of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Louis Jolly; George Killam, Leslie Killam and Merrill Killam. Mrs. Killam was well known in fraternal circles as a member of Fair Oaks Rebekah Lodge.

Vice-president, Joe Walsh; recording secretary, F. H. McConnell; inside guard, Jerry Simpson; outside guard, F. W. Henshaw; treasurer, P. L. Wilson; trustees, Arthur Sagala, Gerard Barnett, George Baker, delegates to Central Labor Council, Mike Abbott, George Young, V. C. Dauslaugh, J. A. Marshall, Harry Stowell, Arthur Sagala, E. B. Wolf, George C. Davis, George Baker, J. H. Mackay, Charles Myers Jr.

The offices of the union were moved last Saturday from the Bacon block to the building on Broadway formerly known as the Downtown Garage, but which is now known as the Labor Temple of the Boilermakers' Union.

Today the officials are rearranging their books and papers, and readjusting themselves to their new quarters. The building is held by the organization under a lease with option to purchase.

It is proposed to remodel the existing structure to conform to the needs of the union organizations of the East-bay district, and to make it a general office building and headquarters for them. George C. Davis, chairman of the building committee, states that plans for the purchase and remodeling of the structure are well advanced, and that a deed to the property will probably issue to the Boilermakers' Union early in January. He also states that the plans for the 450-room workingmen's hotel to be added to the temple building on the rear and face on Franklin street, are progressing favorably. The financial interests of the Eastbay district are giving substantial support to both projects, according to Davis.

EASTBAY FINAL STAMP DRIVE SEEK TO RAISE COUNTY QUOTA

With Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley public school teachers adding in the drive and with several companies of Boy Scouts in the three cities also engaged in a house to house canvass, the final effort to bring war savings stamp sales up to the allotment set aside for Alameda county is being made today and tomorrow by the county war savings stamp committee.

"We are behind, but we're coming up!" is the declaration today of David E. Perkins, county director of the drive.

Public school teachers not only are appealing to their pupils to carry home to their parents the message regarding increased purchases of "war savings," but they also are manning the downtown stamp booths on holidays and after school hours. Many of them are making house-to-house canvasses in their school districts.

While reliable figures on stamp sales for the month will not be forthcoming until some time in January, reports from Berkeley and from several Oakland districts show that sales have been heavy during the last several days and hope is expressed at county headquarters that the county may yet go over the top in the campaign. In Berkeley Boy Scouts have visited almost every house in action for to increase war savings stamp sales.

Perkins today declined the appointment as state director for the California war savings stamp committee to succeed Bert F. Schlesinger, for the past two years California director of stamp campaigns. Schlesinger tendered his resignation several days ago, to take effect the first of the year.

Plans already have been completed in Washington in conjunction with the federal reserve and by the same committees that have charge of the Liberty loan drives.

Those who were cold. One hundred and forty dollars were donated and the money used by Blue Bird in taking care of the families for whom no Good Fellow applied.

It was all worth while? Blue Bird thinks so.

OVERCOME BY LEAKY STOVE.

San Kercovich, age 30, residing at 1775 Fifth street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital in a dying condition last night as the result of influenza.

Eighteen old people, traveling on the down hill road of life, were given read Christmas dinners by the generous people of Oakland, and the thoughtfulness of the giver, and the old down hill road more cheerful for the day.

Among those who came into the Blue Bird department asking for families to take care of, or leaving money, were many who must have made real sacrifices in order to make "the other fellow" happy. They went through the Good Fellows that one man was given nourishing foods to help him back to health so that he could support his three delicate children. Good Fellows also loaned a wheeled chair to a crippled old lady, gave baby buggies to two young mothers who were deserted with their babies, and gave clothes to

126 HERE TO FACE EXILE IN ALIEN RULING

Deportation of 126 alien enemies in the bay region is threatened today as a result of an announcement of the department of justice that it will recommend to Congress that the 3000 or 4000 prisoners in the United States should be sent out of the country. According to the records of Chief Deputy United States Marshal George Burnham there are 126 alien enemies in this section as a result of arrests made in both divisions of the northern federal district, being scattered in internment camps, Fort Winfield Scott, Fort Douglas, Utah, Fort McDowell, Alcatraz Island, Detention hospital and county jail No. 1.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a small bottle of Dandruff at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff! Stop scalp itching and falling hair.—Advertisement.

Sing Out the Old, Sing in the New! Auditorium to Ring With Music

"Sing the New Year in!" This is the call sent out today by the War Camp Community Service to the Oakland and Eastbay public, asking everybody to join in the big New Year's Eve celebration to be staged in the Oakland municipal auditorium.

Simultaneously, it was announced that shortly before the New Year dawns, several hundred soldiers and sailors who are to be the guests at a ball given at the Oakland Defenders' Club will march to the auditorium and join in the festivities which will mark the passing of 1918 and the advent of 1919.

The program for the auditorium celebration, as announced today, provides for band music by the famous Marine Band from Mare Island, motion pictures which are to be provided by the University of California extension division, community singing led by Glenn H. Woods, director of singing in the Oakland public schools, and selections by the famous Rotary Club Quartet.

Among the motion pictures to be shown, will be films taken in France, showing General Pershing and American boys going into battle.

As a finale to the 1918 part of the program and as 1919 dawns, there will be a grand spectacle and tableau scene staged by the girls of the War Camp Community Service, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Snyder.

The following cablegram greeting was sent to General Pershing yesterday by the War Camp Community Service. The message was signed by Joseph J. Rosborough, chairman:

Oakland, California, facing the Golden Gate, at the sunset of world autocracy and at the dawn of the New Year of world liberty, pays highest tribute to Pershing's Crusaders. Would appreciate New Year greeting from you to several thousand men of the service to be entertained in Oakland New Year's Day.

Herman Schmidt and Joachim von Helden, all charged with violating some phase of the espionage act. The others are of lesser importance.

ance, being those who have violated alien enemy zone restrictions, had possession of fire arms, made attempts to flee the country or failed to register, while a number are those against whom no charge has been placed by Attorney General Gregory, but who are believed to have been active in behalf of Germany during the war.

Special legislation will be required for the deportations and it was learned today the department of justice will ask also for authority to prevent the re-entry of these men into this country. Some of the interned aliens are not considered dangerous and no effort will be made to deport them.

The department never has announced how many enemy aliens were held in internment camps, but the number is understood to be between 3000 and 4000. Most of them are Germans and a few are women. About half are understood to be men who served actively at one time as German agents in the United States, receiving and executing orders directly from the German government.

There are also many men who were suspected of gathering information for transmission to Germany after the United States entered the war, but against whom specific proof could not be obtained.

'Peeping Tom' May Be Pistol Wielder

"I don't know anything about it. I had been drinking." This is the explanation of Vincent Westford, 440 Crescent street, in the police toils as a "peeping Tom" suspect following a visit to the apartment occupied by Minnie Watts and Olive Perera at 270 Twenty-first street. The women say that Westford accosted them at Seventeenth and Broadway, and followed them home. While they were preparing to retire, they say they suddenly saw his face at the window. They screamed and Policeman Neil Cochran arrested him after a chase of several blocks.

According to the police Westford answers the description of the man who shot L. R. Forsythe, when the latter went to the assistance of Dorothy Stroud, at Fourteenth and Harrison streets, November 26. He is being held for investigation of this angle of his case, and will be in the police court this week for a hearing on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Oakland Youth Is Cited for Bravery

Private Harold W. Rose, first class, son of Mrs. Mary Rose, 3433 Thirty-fifth avenue, has been cited for distinguished service as the result of heroism in action. The citation says:

"During the offensive in the Forest of Argonne this soldier displayed unusual courage in driving a motorcycle for his commanding officer and also in performing liaison service. He repeatedly showed utter disregard for his own life by riding through areas being heavily shelled. When his motorcycle was disabled he continued on foot and delivered a message as he collapsed from exhaustion."

Wounded in Action, Hero Visits Sister

Private N. E. Steel, who went "over the top" in the big allied drive at Soissons and was severely wounded in action, is a guest of his sister, Mrs. William S. Steel, and his brother, Warren Steel, of this city. He expects to spend New Year's with another sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Miller of Oroville. Steel says that he received the best of treatment in a hospital in France at the time he was wounded and was also given the best of care later at a hospital at Fort Des Moines, Ia. He recovered speedily and is feeling fine again, he says.

Oakland Youth Is Missing in Action

Private Hyman J. Goldstein is missing in action, according to a telegram just received from the War Department by the young man's father, A. Goldstein, 1214 Thirtieth street. Young Goldstein volunteered for service in June, 1917, and has been in France about eight months, according to his father. He is 21 years old.

PEACE BRINGS NEW PROBLEM FOR BUREAU

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The beginning of peace did not end problems. The end of war witnessed but the beginning of social and industrial questions demanding adjustment and timely solutions. Take, for example, the case of the returned soldier, whether he has come from overseas or from camps at home. He must be absorbed anew into the great machinery of the commercial world. With all the talk of reconstruction and the establishment of bureaus where the men who have been in uniform shall be cared for and directed to places to win their livelihood, they are coming back and for the most part they find the country or failed to register, while a number are those against whom no charge has been placed by Attorney General Gregory, but who are believed to have been active in behalf of Germany during the war.

Special lists for soldiers, sailors and marines were created today, and the whole office force pledged to do its utmost for the man in uniform. In from eight to a dozen lads anxious to know where they were going to get work. With the demobilization going forward in increasing rapidity, the numbers will be swelled to many times those figures.

With his trench cap all shabby and torn, his uniform frayed and soiled, his face lined with care and his pockets quite empty, an 18-year-old, fresh from overseas fighting, came to the bureau this morning. There was the job at the shipyard ready for him.

"No, no," he denied, "I can't take that. I can't take anything that has to do with war. I'm sick of it. It doesn't make any difference what it is so long as it has to do with peace." So they endeavored patiently to find what was good for raw nerves and wearied mind.

To set precedent to other business concerns, the State Employment Bureau, through its San Francisco and Oakland offices, within ten days have made places for four of the men who enlisted in the overseas force. With the busy season in employment promised from February to November the directors believe that they will be able to fully meet the problem of the returning men. Reports show that in other years through the months of May to September from 500 to 600 positions were left over daily on the books of the Oakland office.

A total of 33,567 positions were actually secured through the local bureau from January 1 to December 21 this year, according to the report just completed by Mrs. Powers. 22,248 employees called for 46,333 employees. 35,807 persons were referred to positions, although the total of placements was 33,567, of which number 27,252 were men and 6,315 women.

The report follows:

The first figures represent male.

Law Violator If He Moves House Or If He Doesn't

George E. Bayles, house-mover, is "sore."

If he'd left the house he was moving on the street, he says, he'd have been arrested. And when he moved it, this was illegal because he didn't have a permit, and he was arrested, anyhow.

Bayles was arrested on High street, near East Fourteenth, while operating a house-moving apparatus. He was freed on bail. He says it was to be only a "move" across a street, and he did not know a permit was needed for so short a haul until the house was partly in the street.

Then, he said, he had to move it or be arrested for blocking the street. Judge Samuels is puzzling over the legal phase of his plea.

COLD GONE! HEAD AND NOSE CLEAR

First Dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" Relieves All Grippe Misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.—Advertisement.

LEADER EARLY DAY POLITICS IN CITY DIES

John Hiram Pierce, Oakland pioneer, prominent in the early political history of the city, died this morning at his home, 703 Thirty-third street, after an illness of three months.

In 1838, Pierce was elected to the city council, serving one year as the representative of the old Sixth ward. Although this was the only public office he ever held, he was a factor in politics a decade ago.

Pierce came to Oakland when a young boy and made his home here continuously for more than fifty years. For the past 25 years he had been in the employ of the local Water Company, serving as collector and making friends throughout the city. Previous to that he was associated with the James P. Taylor Company.

Three months ago Pierce was stricken with heart trouble and gave up his position. After two weeks in the hospital physicians warned him that he must lead a quiet life. He has suffered from occasional attacks of the heart. The attack this morning proved fatal.

Besides a widow, Mrs. Ellen Pierce, the pioneer is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Hadley Clarence, Mrs. D. L. Bonnell, both of this city; Mrs. W. L. Wales of Woodland; and a son, George H. Pierce, of Napa.

Funeral services will be Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Masonic Temple under the auspices of Live Oak lodge, No. 61, A. F. & A. M., of which Pierce was one of the oldest members.

LIBRARIES WILL CLOSE.

Protracted Cold Weather Here Not Record Breaker

The protracted period of cold weather during December is not a record-breaker, according to a compilation of comparative data compiled by District Forecaster E. A. Beals of the weather bureau today.

The mean average temperature has been 50.4 as compared to 48.9 in 1916 and 48.7 in 1914. The average minimum, or low temperature this month is 44.6, which has caused considerable damage to citrus fruits and vegetables planted for the early market in the south.

The low temperature is primarily due to a high pressure area being persistent over the central plateau states of Nevada and Idaho, and the lack of distribution of this pressure has caused a drainage of cold atmosphere into California, due primarily to the north and northeast winds which have been persistent since the first of the month. Conditions will remain the same until a stiff westerly wind blows for a day or two and drives this drainage back over the mountains.

branches will close at 5 p. m., on Tuesday, December 31, and remain closed all day Wednesday, New Year's Day, January 1, 1919.
